Latest news from the school

School activities are now at full swing again. As we have informed earlier the school year/semesters were postponed due to the pandemic. After a short recess/vacation semester one has now begun. Normally this happens in early February. The semester will last for ten weeks, which is a bit shorter than usual, but a way to make the school year get into the regular pattern at the start of the school year 2023. The staff and pupils cooperate in growing among others corn, which is the main ingredient in the school food. In spite of the drought, which has hit large parts of Kenya, the crop looks promising. This is of course positive considering the increasing food prices in Kenya.

As far as we know, the school - children and staff - have still managed to escape from the pandemic.

Below a few snap shots from the school and two of the new subjects in the new curriculum. Arts and crafts.

Anders Jansson 80 years

Many thanks for the donations to the Association in connection with my 80 year celebration. I believe the amount is around SEK 20 000.

Best regards /Anders

The board also wishes to send thanks to Anders and to all of you, who observed his birthday. A fantastic contribution to the children and to the school's work.
